

Paul Sadler

Environmental Educator
Grow Selsey

Paul has been part of the Selsey community with his family since 2007 and spent most of his time in his early years here working for a variety of environmental charities around the South. His passion is for nature conservation and organic horticulture and growing. Over the past five years he has been working with Youth Dream to help develop the outdoor spaces around The Bridge Support Centre and working with young people from The Academy Selsey. From this has developed The Hidden Garden Community Project which allows people of all ages in Selsey to be part of a community gardening project. This project has led to 'Grow Selsey' which encourages people to create more spaces for community gardening and to share plants, seeds and produce.
