

Susie Parsons

Carer Support Lead

Susie Parsons was an Occupational Therapist for 28 years but has worked in the NHS and Social Services for 36 years also as a care assistant and Occupational Therapy assistant. She has worked mainly in the community enabling people to live their best life by looking at appropriate equipment to help them remain at home and independently for as long as possible. This also included assessing for Disabled Facilities Grants for the council to provide adaptations to their homes, carrying out moving and handling assessments for provision of hoists and slings, which also included training care staff and relatives in how to use the equipment safely. Susie lives with her husband, mother and Kane the dog in Selsey. She has two sons who are both in the Armed Forces and live at home when they are not away. She loves cold water swimming, walking and photography.
